SPEAKERS

Mónica Feria Tinta

Mónica Feria Tinta is a British and Peruvian leading barrister (a court advocate), a specialist in public international law, at the Bar of England & Wales. She practises from Twenty Essex Chambers (London) and appears as counsel before the full range of international courts and tribunals. She also sits as arbitrator in investment arbitration cases. "The Lawyer" magazine featured her in its "Hot 100" 2020 list, as amongst "the most daring, innovative and creative lawyers" in the United Kingdom, and was shortlisted "Barrister of the Year" by the Lawyer's Awards 2020. She has been lead counsel in ground-breaking cases before the Inter-American Court of Human Rights appearing before Judge Cançado Trindade. She obtained the first international binding decision on gender justice in the history of adjudication of the Inter-American region, initiating the feminisation of human rights law in the Americas and acted in the first international case on the rights of the child in times of war. Her litigation work led to the first international human rights court decision ordering the prosecution of a former Head of State for crimes under international law. In 2006 she was awarded the Inge Genefke International Award for her work as an international lawyer and in 2007 she became the youngest lawyer to be awarded the Gruber Justice Prize, for her contributions advancing the cause of justice as delivered through the legal system; an honour she received at a ceremony chaired by US Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg in Washington DC. Monica has the distinction of being the first Latin American lawyer to be Called to and practising at the Bar of England and Wales. She is also a Partner Fellow at the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law and a visiting fellow at Jesus College, University of Cambridge. Prior to the Bar she worked for international courts including the International Court of Justice and the International Criminal Tribunal for Ex-Yugoslavia. She acted as legal adviser for a State during the Diplomatic Conference that adopted the Rome Statute; and more recently served as legal adviser (Legal Directorate) at the Foreign & Commonwealth Office, in the UK. Monica holds an LLM with merit from the London School of Economics and was trained further in international law under a UN Fellowship (ILC) in Geneva, in Strasbourg (René Cassin Institute); in Finland (Turko Academy); and in Hamburg (IFLOS, Law of the Sea). In 2000 she became the first and only Peruvian-born lawyer to be awarded the Diploma of The Hague Academy of International Law in history, under Professor Pierre-Marie Dupuy. Monica is in the Panel of Arbitrators (appointed by the UK) in the Korean-UK BIT and is Adviser to the Arbitration Centre in Kuala Lumpur (appointed by the Government of Malaysia). In 2021 she was benched at the Middle Temple.
